Reduce extra fluid in the body (edema)

The edema is one of the pathologies of microcirculation caused by an accumulation of liquid in the interstitial space. The occurrence of edema and swelling of tissues after surgical operations is common and is one of the main causes of post-operative pain. Also cellulite is caused by an alteration of the microcirculation and water retention

BODYDRAIN

Postoperative oedema occurs in part as a result of the cytokine response to surgical injury, which increases the permeability of the capillary membrane to proteins such as albumin, and results in a redistribution of plasma proteins and fluid from the intravascular to the interstitial space. The main reason why patients swell after surgery is because of the trauma incurred to the tissue. The occurrence of swelling of tissues after surgical operations is common and is one of the main causes of post-operative pain.

Cellulite Water retention and cellulite are closely related. The probability of accumulating cellulite due to prolonged periods of stagnation of liquids is very high. It is caused by an alteration of the microcirculation. Suffer from water retention is the primary factor that contributes to the formation of cellulite because it alters the normal circulation of blood, lymph, oxygen and nutrients.

Lymphatic leakage can be seen as a detrimental phenomenon associated with fluid retention and deposition as well as gain of weight. Moreover, lymphatic dysfunction is associated with an inflammatory environment and can be a substrate for other health conditions.

Smoothing of wrinkles, Firmness, Elasticity, Hydration

Collagen restructures the skin from within: improves elasticity, reduces wrinkles and hydrates the skin (of face and body). Drinking hydrolyzed collagen stimulates your own collagen production and improves the quality of the skin.

KOLLAGEN

Each sachet contains a harmonious blend of high quality hydrolyzed Collagen (10g), Vitamin C and E, Silicon, Oligomere Pro-Cyanidine (OPC) and MSM

Kollagen. A pleasant, soluble, tropical-flavored powder based on high quality hydrolyzed Collagen, Vitamin C and E, Silicon, Oligomere Pro-Cyanidine (OPC) and MSM formulated to rejuvenate the skin, restore skin hydration prevent and reduce signs of aging, such as wrinkles and fatigue, protects the joints and prevents injuries.

Collagen synthesis is dependent on the Silicon and Vitamin C that influence the hydroxylation process of the proline in hydroxy-proline

Collagen is degraded by proteolytic enzymes, called metalloproteases, a degenerative phenomenon that increases with age, smoking, alcohol and a sedentary lifestyle. OPC acts as metalloprotease inhibitors.

Zague, V., et al. (2011). Collagen hydrolysate intake increases skin collagen expression and suppresses matrix metalloproteinase 2 activity. Journal of medicinal food, 14(6), 618-624.

KOLLAGEN

Kollagen enhances the results of aesthetic procedures

Against Collagen loss!!

Collagen is the most abundant protein in human body giving the skin its strength and structures. Around the age of 25, cells begin to lose the ability to synthesize collagen, whose production drops by 1.5% annually. This process increases over the age of 45, and as we approach 60, collagen production has decreased by more than 65%.

Scientifically proven to promote collagen and elastin synthesis and slow collagen degradation

Improve our internal and external pH levels

As we age, our skin becomes more acidic in response to our lifestyle and our environment.

Diet and Alkalizing food supplements play an important role in determining our internal and external pH levels.

ALKALINE

Cronos Alkaline: Alkalizing, antioxidant and re-mineralizing properties

Cronos Alkaline is a nutritional supplement formulated on the basis of natural principles that work synergistically and in a complementary way, with alkalizing, anti-inflammatory, antioxidant and re-mineralizing properties. Cronos Alkaline improves the reserves of the buffer substances founded in the body and contains in balanced proportions alkalizing salts, natural Vitamin C with antioxidant activity as absorbent of toxins, but also functioning as astringent and diuretic.

Skin is naturally designed to fight infection and environmental stresses and its ability to do so is affected by its pH level. Our skin has a thin, protective layer on its surface, referred to as the acid mantle, made up of sebum (free fatty acids) excreted from the skin's sebaceous glands, which mixes with lactic and amino acids from sweat. As we age, our skin becomes more acidic in response to our lifestyle and our environment.

Cronos Alkaline plays an important role in determining our internal and external pH levels.

Reducing cortisol herbs

It is well known that stress slows the healing process, decreases inflammatory responses, and likewise increases fear and anxiety.

The increase in levels of circulating cortisol, secondary to an increase in the production of corticotropin releasing hormone and the action of the autonomic nervous system, can create harmful effects in different organs and tissues.
